Re: Update

We are happy to report that all Metpar facilities are operational and fully functional. We sincerely appreciate all of the calls, emails and outpouring of support for our team. Transportation schedules are back to normal schedules, with the exception of some of the hardest hit areas in east Tennessee and western North Carolina. Be advised that there has been a disruption in the current phenolic raw material supply chain. Due to the uncertainty of this supply, we are offering some stock colors available in house, and engaging alternate suppliers to help fill the demand. We will be contacting customers with current orders to review available options on their orders. We appreciate everyone's patience, understanding and continued support under these difficult circumstances.

Sincerely,

Jim Storey
